

Title: Driving Urban Transitions Partnership Launch Event

On 4-5 October 2022 in Brussels, the Driving Urban Transitions Partnership will be officially launched with a series of sessions and speakers.

The DUT Partnership steps up the game to tackle urban challenges. It aims to create a strong community around urban transitions and to establish a well-known research and innovation platform that will help cities become more sustainable, inclusive and liveable. DUT is realised as a European partnership of more than 60 partners from 27 countries, involving national and regional policymakers, funders and urban-related policy agencies to invest in urban R&I and strengthen a European innovation eco-system for urban transitions.

ERRIN has actively participated in shaping this new partnership and has also been invited to play a role in it. Read ERRIN's input to the public consultation to shape the DUT Partnership here and find more news related to ERRIN's work around the DUT Partnership here.

More information about the launch event, including the agenda, is available here.

Smart Cities