

Title: Past, present and future of the Interreg MED programme and governance in the Mediterranean

The Interreg MED Programme is organising a brainstorming conference on the future of European territorial cooperation to better coordinate and strengthen the governance action in the Mediterranean.

The conference will draw lessons from the past and reflect on repeating or adapting the current model for the future. It will take place online, with registration opening in early October.

Learn more here.