

Title: EIT Urban Mobility Summit

Join in on the first edition of our flagship event that brings together partners, stakeholders from all sectors, policymakers and scientific experts. Jump on board of this 3-day virtual interactive event and take part in inspiring discussions, learn about the impact of EIT Urban Mobility programmes and network with the urban mobility innovation ecosystem.

EIT Urban Mobility is an initiative of the European Institute of Innovation and Technology (EIT). We aim to become the largest European initiative transforming urban mobility. Using our cities as living labs, our industry, research and university partners will demonstrate how new technologies can work to solve real problems in real cities by transporting people, freight and waste in smarter ways.

This partnership is all about inspiring and enabling the move towards more liveable urban spaces, dedicated entrepreneurial talent and competitive mobility businesses. Together we aim to build a prosperous future for our cities.

Free registration opens soon.
