

Title: FIT4FOOD2030 Final Conference - food system transformation

Implementing FOOD 2030 to future-proof Europe's food systems through research and innovation

The conference intends to broaden the understanding and importance of food system transformation and help different stakeholders engage to accomplish the transformation.

In this two-day virtual conference, you get the chance to learn about the systems approach to food system transformation and gain practical tools and solutions developed by FIT4FOOD2030 to support responsible research and innovation in food system transformation, which will help you to have an impact on the challenges our food systems currently face within the local, national or European context.

Registration for the FIT4FOOD2030 Final Conference is free and open to anyone interested in participating in the sessions.

Bioeconomy
Blue Economy