

Title: EU R&I Days: Re-imagining science advice to policy after COVID-19

As the global response to COVID-19 can be seen as a success story for scientific research and innovation, this EU R&I Days event will explore how lessons learned can be used going forward with the Recovery and Resilience Facility.

This session will reimagine how recent changes to the ways scientific advice informs policy can be continued as the RRF works towards a sustainable and inclusive recovery built through co-creation and co-design.
