Noticeboard

The space below presents different calls and opportunities, such as calls for speakers, experts and open competitions, while also acting as a new tool for project facilitation. Here, we will not only announce information on projects, but you can also use this space to voice your preliminary interest for specific calls without having developed a concept note for a proposal yet. If you would like to upload a post, please go to the "Upload Content" page. Please avoid publishing content related to events and news, as they have separate dedicated sections on this website.
