

Invitation to webinar on foreign language learning and teaching in the digital age

To language teachers, trainers, language professionals and others interested in the field of foreign language learning

On September the 23rd from 9.30 to 11.30 AM the partners behind the new Erasmus+ project DIGI-LINGO: Enhancing digital language teaching and virtual exchange will host an inspiring webinar about the use and future of virtual and digital language teaching.

The final programme will be announced in September, but we can already reveal that the renowned researcher Robert O'Dowd will take part and do a presentation on his research into virtual exchanges. By attending this webinar, you will get the latest knowledge and research into digital language learning.

Please mark your calendar today and sign up for the event through this link: <https://rm.plan2learn.dk/KursusValg.aspx?id=92879>. You can select English by pressing on the icon of the Danish flag in the upper right corner. The programme will be announced on this page as well. You will receive the programme and the Teams link to the webinar via e-mail at a later point.

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to contact the organizer at digi-lingo@ru.rm.dk.
